

Business analysis and project management for feature requests

Eleonora Sokolova

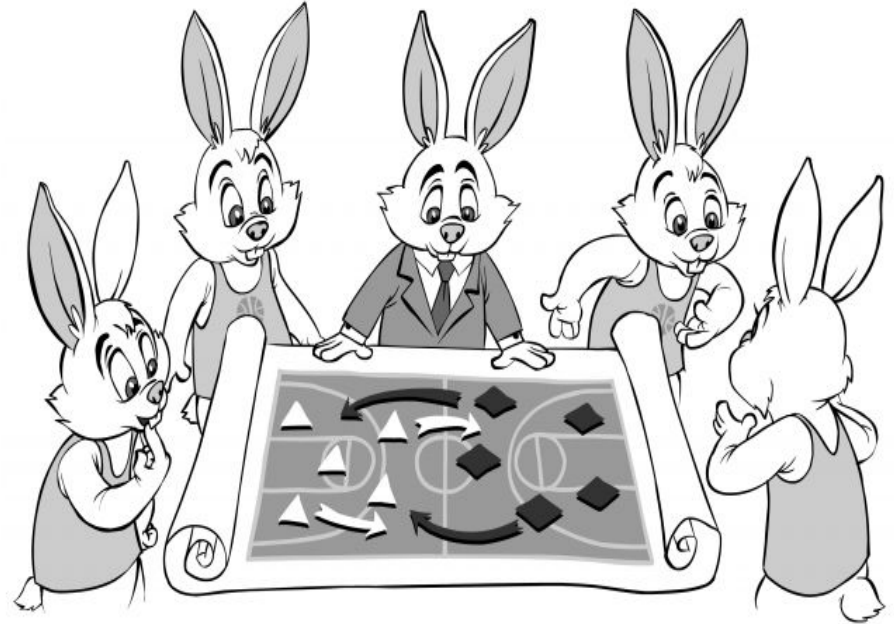

Application Support Engineer

- New release = new features
- A large portion of new features – your business requirements
- Everything begins with specification

Describing requirements is an easy task

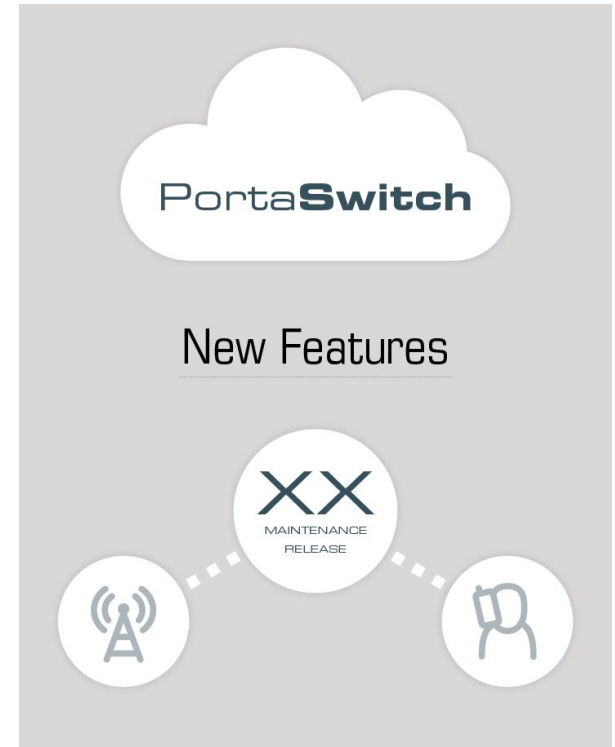

- Feature Request does not require a technical background
- We can analyze requirements and prepare description for you
- You save time and money

What is the implementation process?

- Application Engineers
- Project Managers
- Development Department
- Quality Assurance team

Work together to deliver functionality in new release

Thank you!

Eleonora Sokolova

Application Support Engineer